Atheist vs. Agnostic
An atheist, in a positive way, declares that there is no God. The agnostic, on the other hand, is a person who claims that no one can know if there is a God or a spiritual world. The agnostic
does not say there is no God;
he only says that he does not know.

Leadership of Democrats
to Bring Fight

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House
Democrats already are beginning to choose up sides in a leadership contest that will erupt when Speaker John W.
McCormack steps down.

There is no indication the 77-
year-old McCormack has retirement in mind, but the possibility that he will make this Congress his last is enough to start the jockeying for position.

Because of McCormack's sensitivity on the subject nothing is being said or done openly, but it is a lively topic of discussion in private talks in a number of offices.

Majority Leader Carl Albert,
who avoids such talk or meetings, appears solidly in line to succeed McCormack. The fight shapes up as one to replace Albert as majority leader—providing that Democrats still have control of the House when the showdown comes.

Moderate, urban-oriented Democrats are determined to put one of their members in the position. This would mean shunting aside Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, who as party whip is a rung behind Albert on the current leadership ladder.

The more conservative Democrats, largely southern based,
would like to see a majority leader closer to their views.

For years the most likely candidate of conservative Democrats has been Rep. Wilbur D.
Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee. But Mills' ambition is to be speaker, not majority leader.

Until recently it appeared Mills might be in a position to challenge Albert as Mc-Cormack's successor. His already great stature was enhanced by his performance in putting through the big tax reform bill, and Albert seemed unwilling to emerge from Mc-Cormack's shadow.

But in the past few weeks Albert has shown a new militance and independence that has heartened his supporters and strengthened his position.

As an Oldhaman, Albert has enough "country" in him to satisfy the southerners, and his stalwart support of Democratic party programs has kept his standing high among the liberals and moderates.

If McCormack should retire at the end of the 91st session, or if cards will be issued and that a future plenary session will deal with such a proposal.

Husak said, according to CTK, that the card replacement would not only be "a formal act" but would rid the party of rank-and-file members "who are unable to get rid of views hostile to our teachings." He said every member's attitude regarding political views, work
and character would be assessed.

Smrkovsky and former Foreign Minister Jiri Hajek were among nine men expelled from the Central Committee—three of them being thrown out of the party itself. Nineteen other liberal members resigned under pressure. The 29th tole was Planning Minister Frantisek Vlasak, who was expelled as an alternate member.

Josef Kempny, 49, a conservative, replaced Dubcek within the Presidium and was one of six deputy premiers named in the new government. Kempny also was among 13 new conservatives placed on the Central Committee in a distinct shift toward orthodox Communist control.

Dubcek's retention on the Central Committee was surprising in view of Husak's report accusing him of repeated errors in the months leading to the invasion by Warsaw Pact members.

With the ouster of Dubcek
from the Presidium, Svoboda
and Premier Oldrich Cernik,
are the only ranking officials remaining from the reform era.

Dubcek refused to make a so-called confession under pro-Soviet prompting—which would have made his purge that much easier—but said at the start of the Central Committee meeting
he was prepared to relinquish
his seat in Parliament.

he were forced by illness or other circumstances to step down earlier, there seems little likeli-

a new and far different situation
if McCormack decided to hang on and try for another term in 1971.

Bartlett Found Guilty on 26
Counts of Fraud

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Ernest A. Bartlett Jr., 30, was convicted Friday night by a U. S. District Court jury on 26 counts of federal antitrust law violations in operations of Arkansas Loan & Thrift Corp.

The verdict found him guilty on all 26 counts against him in the indictment returned last December by a federal grand jury which investigated operations of the firm which was declared insolvent last September.

Bartlett showed no emotion
when the verdict was read.
Judge Oren Harris, who presided over the 18 days of proceedings in the trial, had cautioned against demonstrations or outbursts.

Sam Sexton Jr., Bartlett's attorney, was expected to file a notice of appeal.

Bartlett had pleaded innocent on all of the charges. He originally was named in the indictment on 26 counts, but two of those subsequently were dismissed, one on a motion by the government with the explanation that a needed witness would be prevented by illness from appearing.

Three others also were indicted in the case and are to be tried later. No trial dates have been set for them. They are former Arkansas Atty. Gen.
Bruce Bennett and two other former ALAT officials, Afton Borum and Hoyt Borum, coun-sins from Booneville. All three have pleaded innocent at arraignments.

Officials of the Securities and Exchange Commission asked
federal court at Fort Smith
March 11, 1968, to place ALAT
into receivership. Two days later U. S. District Court Judge John E. Miller granted the request.

Last September, when Miller
declared the firm insolvent, ALAT had more than 2,000 de-positors. An audit listed its assets as $1,095,335 and its liabilities as $4,268,643.

During the trial, Bartlett challenged the accuracy of the audits and insisted that had ALAT
been allowed to continue operations it would have not have become insolvent.

The case went to the jury
Thursday night, but because the hour was late deliberations by the panel of eight women and four men did not begin until Friday morning.

At one point during the day,
the jury returned to the court room and asked that Harris' instructions be read again. This took almost two hours.

When the jury returned with the verdict, the foreman, Mrs.
Betty Moulton, handed the verdict to Deputy Clerk Carl Brent,
who gave it to Harris.

The judge then cautioned against outbursts or demonstrations. He gave the verdict back to Brent, who announced
the jury's decision on each of the 26 counts, one by one.

With Bartlett and Sexton was Bartlett's wife, who had her arm around her husband's shoulder. A few friends of Bartlett and Sexton's wife also were seated in the courtroom.

Sexton asked that the jury be polled and the jurors, one by one, confirmed that they found Bartlett guilty on each of the counts.

Eli Mooty, 36, of El Dorado was injured fatally and four other persons were injured in a two-car, head-on collision three miles east of there on U.S. 82
this morning.

Mooty, former football player at the University of Arkansas and at LSU, was the brother of Jim Mooty, an All-American at Arkansas.

Police said Mooty was driver of one of the cars in which three other persons were passengers. They were en route to work at Crossett. Injured in his car were Dallas Ward, 58, Earl Yarbrough, 44, and Benny Bybisky, 52, all of El Dorado.
They were reported in satisfactory condition at an El Dorado hospital.

Police said the Mooty car was hit head-on by a car driven by Mrs. Willie Gill, 28, of Strong,
who was reported in critical condition at an El Dorado hospital.

Mother Talks Against Any Autopsy

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)

An attorney for Mary Jo Kopechne's parents said today the public's curiosity about how she died in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car should not justify an autopsy on her body.

"There must be proof of a crime and that an autopsy can prove or disprove the guilt or innocence of one suspected of criminal conduct," said Joseph F. Flanagan, attorney for the Kopechne's who moved for dismissal of a Massachusetts petition for exhumation and autopsy.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Ko-pechne of Berkeley Heights,
N.J., were in the courtroom of Common Pleas Judge Bernard
C. Brominski when arguments began today. It was the first time they have been present
during a legal fight against disturbance of their daughter's grave.

Flanagan repeated his claim that Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., had failed to provide sufficient evidence that a crime was committed when Miss Kopechne died in the July 18 car accident, on Chappaquiddick Island, off the Massachusetts coast.

Dinis has said that there was blood on Miss Kopechne's blouse and in her mouth and nose and this "may or may not be consistent with death by drowning."

Death by drowning was the ruling made by a Massachusetts medical examiner. No autopsy was performed.

Flanagan said that the alleged new evidence that Dinis provided in an amendment to his petition still was insufficient.

"The test of whether or not an autopsy will be ordered cannot be based upon guesswork or speculation," Flanagan told the court.

Dinis was not in the courtroom. His argument against dismissal of the autopsy petition was made by Armand Fernan-des, an assistant district attorney from Dukes County, Mass.

The Kopechne's last month had asked for a dismissal of the Dinis petition but Brominski, in an opinion on Sept. 3, turned the parents down and ordered the district attorney to provide more proof. Then Dinis amended his petition with allegations that investigators had learned of the presence of blood after Miss Kopechne was buried in nearby Larksville.

Flanagan noted that Dinis had scheduled an inquest.

This fact alone "is not sufficient to justify an autopsy," Flanagan said.

Flanagan said that "Unless an inquest is to be held, there is no need for an autopsy."

The inquest ordered by Dinis
has been postponed, possibly until early November, while Kennedy's attorneys appeal to the Massachusetts Supreme Court
for permission to cross-examine witnesses.

Flanagan asked Brominski to postpone action on the autopsy petition until after the inquest.

"The possibility still exists
that the inquest will disclose facts which will cause the district attorney to conclude that no further investigation or proceeding is warranted," Flanagan said.

CHICAGO (AP) — Congressmen with sports backgrounds
serving in the House of Represent-

But a study of biographies gives no real clue as to what an am-

gress.

Commerce Clearing House said
those with sports backgrounds are Robert B. Mathias (Calif.), twice Olympic Gold Medal winner in

The assessment continued:
"Added to the difficulties of judgments is the lack of information received during the week on the 7th, 9th and 1st Di-

"We estimate the coming week will see a continued shifting of units with possibly a more definite picture of subordination, areas of likely activity and intentions emerging. The divisional units are not likely to engage in heavy actions, but localized activity by sub-region forces can be expected as they attempt to complete resupply,
reconnaissance and preparations for a more intensive offensive period in October."

"We think that the positioning
of the divisional forces is a repeat of the pattern seen previously when these units were engaged in reorganization and refitting in preparation for major actions, and that this positioning in the border sanctuaries
does not indicate a de-escalation by the enemy."

Calendar of Events

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30

The Jett B. Graves Class of the First United Methodist Church will have a potluck supper at the church Tuesday, September 30 at 7 p.m. Hostesses are Mesdames: Roy Stephenson, Graydon Anthony, Hazel Castle, K.G. Hamilton, David Griffin, and Leon Prescott.

On Tuesday, September 30, Den 1, Pack 92 of Brookwood school will meet at the Patton home, 504 N. Elm for their meeting at 7:30 p.m. All parents are asked to come and bring their own lawn chairs for the space derby.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 2

The Golden Age Club will have their regular meeting Thursday, October 2 at 1:30 p.m. at the Douglas Building. Transportation will be furnished. Please be ready when transportation arrives.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 4

The Two-by-Two Class of First United Methodist Church will have a party Saturday night, Oct. 4, starting at 6:30 p.m. in the recreational center of the Housing Authority on Texas street. The class will furnish the meat, bread and drinks. Members and their guests are asked to bring a pot luck supper.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Mrs. Al Graves, Mrs. Tommy Crouch, and Mrs. Bob Kellam were hostesses for the monthly Ladies Bridge-Luncheon at the Hope Country Club on Thursday, September 25. Yellow flowers decorated the pretty dining area of the clubhouse, where 35 were served a potluck luncheon which had a chicken-mushroom casserole for the main course.

When bridge was played after lunch, prizes were won by the following, high, Mrs. E.P. Young, Jr.; second, Mrs. Earl Lockett; third, Mrs. Sam W. Strong, Jr.; consolation, Mrs. H.C. Whitworth; game, Mrs. W.C. Bramlett.

GARDENIA CLUB MEETS

The Gardenia Garden Club had a called meeting September 17 following the fall luncheon of the Hope Council of Garden Clubs at the Town and Country Restaurant. After the president, Mrs. Lonnie Crow, had called the meeting to order, 13 members answered the roll and plans were made to attend the fall board meeting in Little Rock September 30.

It was voted to change the time for the club meeting from 1:30 p.m. to 1 p.m., and the new yearbooks were distributed and discussed. Orders were taken for calendar date books and note cards.

Mrs. Wallace Martin announced the first Junior Garden Club meeting of the year would be held October 24. On Thursday, October 2 at 1 p.m. the Gardenia Club will meet in the home of Mrs. Frank Ward.

Coming, Going

Out-of-town guests of Mrs. W. E. Jones Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Woodis Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Krupicki and son, all of Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Neighbors vacationed in Eureka Springs last week and enjoyed the passion play.

sion, says he fears some new calamity if the west wall is not stabilized.

"I worry especially during an occasion such as the state funeral services of the late President Eisenhower when the leaders of all branches of government were concentrated in the Capitol and when many thousands of our citizens passed through the building," Stewart said.

"Just think of what would result if during such a period the west section should collapse or even partially collapse."

Also on the side of expansion is the recommendation of past Capitol architects. Both Latrobe and Bulfinch prepared drawings showing a pediment on the west central front, one of the changes planned.

Thomas U. Walter, who built the present House and Senate wings and added the great dome in the 1860s, said the dome needed to be extended to accommodate the outsize dome.

The extensionists also say the Capitol was never just one building but has grown through the years.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., complained "there is only one small paragraph which states flatly, without any description or analysis, that restoration is impossible and extension is the only solution."

Opponents, led by the American Institute of Architects, claim the wall can be saved in its present condition.

"Restoration does not provide a permanent solution," counters Campoli. "Whatever the form of restoration or the method it would result in a makeshift job."

Campoli also told Congress that restoration would require evacuation for a long period of time large areas of the Capitol, including offices of congressional leaders.

The opposition contends everything done so far on the official level has been slanted toward building a case for extension.

The movement was initiated by a group, composed of Stewart, McCormack and other top congressional leadership, called the Commission for the Extension of the United States Capitol.

"They just haven't made any study to see if the west front could be saved and how much it would cost," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. "Apparently they're afraid of what it might show."

Opponents claim the extension will cost five times as much per square foot as the new Rayburn House Office Building, which skyrocketed above cost estimates.

Critics also say that eight of the last nine major design contracts awarded for Capitol Hill construction have gone to a small group of architects—now in partnership. The same group has contracts for the west front extension.

You've come a long way, baby, and so has your bike. But bicycle riding was the first sport to put women into pants. Orange knit cycling costume (right) is matched by wild orange "Crazy Wheels" on the bike itself.

'Crazy Wheels' Make Fashion

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The bicycle has had a direct influence on women's fashions since the first American bike was manufactured in 1877.

At that time it was scandalous for women to be anywhere but in the home. When they failed to wear the amount of clothing deemed proper—six starched petticoats and assorted underpinnings—they were called "fast."

But some women broke convention and tried the new-fangled bicycle which was such a vogue with the men. And when they did, they broke another convention and wore the costume designed by Mrs. Amelia Bloomer which to this day bears her name.

Gradually in the 1900s women began to show a bit of independence in what they wore and where they went. Fashions were now taking their cue from Paris and the women of Paris had discovered bike riding which they did in a somewhat basic costume—a very wide pair of knickerbockers, stockings with high boots or shoes, a simple skirt with collar and tie and a soft felt hat. Gradually, knickerbockers were replaced by a divided skirt so that women could ride in comfort as well

They are not allowed to play in their lovely big yard, only to sit on a bench at one side. They can't get their playthings out very often, and if a toy is broken, it's a federal case. They are sent to their corners—and each has his own regular corner—to stand facing the wall for hours. They hardly dare speak at meals and cannot join any laughter or conversation.

Women found slacks a nuisance on a bike. So a shorter version for slacks was specifically designed and called, obviously, pedal pushers. The shortened versions of these are today's "shorts."

Bicycles themselves have changed much in the last several years — high-rise handlebars, five-way stick shifts, elongated frames for the drag-racer look, transistor radio-headlights, banana seats — name it, it has happened to the bike.

And as fashion has reared its chic head in automobile interior design, it also has come to the bicycle. Good-year now makes rubber tires in colors to match the color of the bike, to complement it, to clash with it. There are five colors — orange, yellow, blue, green and red.

Fashion-conscious kids today are having a ball sporting bike tires in their school colors; colors "chosen" by "steadies" as "their own" and even a "yellow-does-something-for-me" selection. So once again the bicycle is influencing fashion.

WHEN NECESSITY OVERRULES COURTESY

Dear Helen: We visited relatives in a distant city for the first time in six years and discovered a situation that worries and frightens us. They are badly mistreating their youngsters, aged six, five and three.

The parents are college educated, responsible young people, yet their kids, who are nicer than most, are whipped and slapped about, screamed at constantly over nothing, browbeaten until they obey like beaten animals.

They are not allowed to play in their lovely big yard, only to sit on a bench at one side. They can't get their playthings out very often, and if a toy is broken, it's a federal case. They are sent to their corners—and each has his own regular corner—to stand facing the wall for hours. They hardly dare speak at meals and cannot join any laughter or conversation.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The dean of television variety shows started its 22nd season Sunday night as the dean of television variety hosts celebrated his 67th birthday.

Both looked in pretty good shape. The vaudeville format of "The Ed Sullivan Show" hasn't really changed much since 1947, but the entertainment now has "production values" where once there was a bare stage and a curtain.

Sullivan had a really big show for the double occasion—Tony Bennett and the Temptations singing, Red Skelton in a drunk sketch, and a tape of Barbra Streisand singing "Hello, Dolly" songs before a Las Vegas night club audience.

The third segment of "The Bold Ones," making its NBC debut, had a tough police officer and a determined district attorney fighting crime in a reluctant, suspicious partnership. The show started with a murder and worked around to crooked

On Friday night, there also was the debut of the ABC variety series starring Jimmy Durante and the Lennon Sisters, a show deliberately built for the family audience. Durante has a warmth and style that seem to become richer with age. The four sisters sang nicely together, and are sweet-faced, demure young women who project a wholesome, healthy image. The music was pleasant, the sets handsome. But it was Durante, with a major assist from guest star Jack Benny, who gave the hour its go and its humor.

The weekend should also include mention of the return of Jackie Gleason to CBS Saturday. Not "The Jackie Gleason Show," Jackie himself. The show was a "Honeymooners" musical and not one of the best. But "the new Jackie Gleason" was something else: Scores of pounds thinner, handsome and debonair.

He looked, in fact, like a matinee idol pretending to be Ralph the bus driver.

Recommended tonight: "The Survivors," premiere, ABC, 9-10 EDT, first chapter of a TV "novel" about life in the jet set, with Lana Turner, George Hamilton and Ralph Bellamy; "Love, American Style," ABC, premiere, 10-11, three comedy vignettes, all about love, with Michael Callan, Flip Wilson, Robert Cummings and Jane Wyatt among the players, politicians and graft.

A scratchy relationship between the two leads and the decisive playing of Leslie Nielsen as the cop and Hari Rhodes as the district attorney make the hour a cut above the usual police action tale.

ABC's new Friday night situation comedies are not likely to cause much of a ripple. "The Brady Bunch" has a widow with three girls marrying a widower with three boys. There is also a cat, a dog and a comedy housekeeper. The mood is strictly slapstick: Dog chases cat through wedding reception and bridegroom winds up with face in cake. It seemed familiar and predictable, not worth the talents of performers such as Robert Reed, Florence Henderson and Ann B. Davis.

Q. What is the proper way to treat what is left of the roast turkey?
A. To refrigerate. Remove stuffing from body and neck cavities. Place in bowl and refrigerate. Leftover poultry may be refrigerated whole or stripped from the bones. Refrigerate both and gravy in same as possible. Use cooked poultry meat, stuffing and gravy should be covered. Use within 3 to 4 days.

To freeze: Poultry meat may be wrapped and frozen. Use within 2 months. Stuffing may also be wrapped and frozen. Use within 1 month.

Q. Are hen turkeys more tender than tom (male) turkeys?
A. No. Tenderness is primarily affected by the age of the live bird. All young turkeys whether toms or hens are tender.

Q. What is the advantage of a deep-basted turkey?
A. Each slice of white meat of deep-basted turkey is tender and juicy. This is because liquid fat is added where hard basting cannot reach and the turkey inner bones as it roasts. Butterball Swift's Premium Turkeys are deep basted, both the regular and the stuffed.

Hope Star SPORTS

Bobcats at Their Best Friday Night

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

There is plenty of difference in playing team football and the kind of halfhearted desire which the Hope Bobcats have shown in the past. And with their best unitary performance of the young season, the Hope Bobcats gunned down the Smackover Buckaroos 43-2 last Friday night at Hammons Stadium.

And three wins in a row have shown the Bobcats outscoring the opponents by a total of 98-2 and that's impressive credentials.

Just like in the 28-0 rout at DeQuen, the Cats took advantage of the Bucks' errors and used good field position and an unstoppable offense to roll up an insurmountable lead of 30-0 at halftime.

Everybody got into the act for the second week, too, and that second unit offense has now seen action in four of the last eight quarters. This kind of experience, coupled with the "B" team games, will make a difference come October and November when that depth will be needed.

A safety started it off for Hope, after an opening drive of 54 yards was halted by a Bobcat fumble at the Smackover 20. When the Bucks had to punt, the snap went over punter Butch Wilkins' head, and he covered the 2-0 margin.

After that it was no contest, as the Cats took the ensuing kickoff and voyaged 53 yards in nine plays over calm seas for the first TD. Ronnie Massanelli threw the first of three scoring passes to David Still on a six-yard play, and Ronny Brown's kick made it 9-0.

Still in the first quarter, Smackover was pushed back to its own 20-yard line by a punt kicked on third down. It was a poor boot, though, and defensive back Randy Still grabbed it up at the Buckaroo 25 and returned it to the 14. Two plays later fullback Gary Jones booted over from the two for his initial TD, and as the quarter ended Hope led it 16-0.

For all purposes, the game was decided, but a few minutes later Massanelli wound up and heaved a 53-yard scoring bomb to David Still, who caught the five passes thrown to him in the game without a single miss. Brown's kick was good again, and 23-0 had Bobcat Coach Ronnie Higgins feeling satisfied.

Artis Martin returned a punt 34 yards to the Smackover 42 late in the half and the offense set out to score once more. However, a third and long yardage situation developed with time running out.

Here Massanelli pitched out to Artis, who for the second time this season (both successfully) completed it, this one to Still for a first and goal at the nine.

On second down, with seconds showing, Massanelli rolled left and spied end Lee Davis behind everyone in the left flat, and the combination resulted in a 10-yard touchdown. Brown's kick led the cake at 30-0, and it was break time.

Besides the offensive experience for the second unit, the reserve front line on defense also got in for a good bit of the second half. The defensive tackles were Junior Winston Franks, a 215-pounder, and soph Bubba Powers, a 255-pounder, so the second team was bigger. Soph Rodney Burke (170) played noseman, and Jessie Henry saw action at linebacker in place of Larry McWilliams.

Two six-pointers in the second half came (1) on a half-field drive sparked by senior tailback Thomas Lloyd, who scored from 12 yards out, and (2) on a beautiful 40-yard interception run-back by Ray Wheelington with eleven minutes remaining. And Smackover got its safety when Bobcat Sid Waller intercepted at the Hope two and was dogged down in the end zone.

What the game showed was the increasing depth all over the squad. With tackle Jim Alford still not fully recovered from ankle injury suffered against Prescott, soph Lynn Norton has played offensive tackle 200 yards for two games and senior 210-pounder Glen Rook has found himself at defensive tackle. This means that when Alford is at full speed again, replacements are ready whenever he gets tired. Thomas Lloyd, whom everybody knew was a darn good runner, showed it once more by leading a scoring drive in place of Artis Martin, who rested after a taxing punt return. Offensive linemen like ends Tim White and Clifford Peavy and tackle Hiram Reynolds showed they can play anytime when needed and do well, and White did a respectable job with a second team at defensive end.

And just as important, Coach Johnny McMurtry is getting more experience out of his reserve defensive secondary. Players like Anthony Davis and Stan James a pair of scrappy juniors who probably could start on many other teams, and monster man Terry Vines are gaining more confidence and make up the specialty units.

All the players can't be named here, but if attitude holds you will be hearing about and seeing everybody before the season is up.

Meanwhile the Bobcats today begin preparations for the first 4-AA Western Division game of the season, coming this Friday night in the Leopards' den at Malvern. Hope actually hasn't beaten Malvern in the Leopard's den but one time, that in 1963 when the Cats had the championship team.

This time, the occasion is Homecoming, and Malvern will be flowing with spirit to kill the Bobcats. What the Cats must do, other than prepare for the complicated Malvern "bifocal" offense, is realize that their 0-4 record came against four of Arkansas' very best and get ready for a real head-knocker.

Recall last year, when Hope with a 2-3-4 record hosted the 6-0 Fairview Cardinals for the HHS Homecoming. What you remember is that Hope beat the Cardinals up and down the field throughout, only to lose it 20-14 through misfortune and bad breaks.

Now the situation is reversed, but this Bobcat team seems to be quite unlike in its attitude of forgetting the previous victory as soon as Monday's practice comes. Avoiding the complacent and happy-go-lucky emotions, Hope is beginning to look like a winner with its true determination and show of power on the football field.

It will be a week of jitters and butterflies, but on Saturday the Bobcats hope to find they have truly arrived to stay on the winning scene.

Tech, A&M Battle to Scoreless Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The first showdown of the season in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference was a dud.

Arkansas Tech and Arkansas A&M, two of the preseason favorites in the AIC, met Saturday night at Russellville and settled nothing during the 60-minute struggle. It ended just like it began, 0-0.

Cliff Harris returned a kickoff 85 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter to lift Ouachita past State College of Arkansas 14-10.

In other action, Harding and Millsaps fought to a 7-7 tie and Mississippi College rallied for a 21-17 victory over Southern State.

Both Tech and A&M had scoring opportunities, but the Wonder Boys had the last chance and probably the best when Daryl Melton returned a punt 47 yards to the A&M six with less than three minutes remaining. Four plays later, Robert DePriest missed a 21-yard field goal attempt from a difficult angle.

A&M reached the Tech eight in the first half but Roy Eoff picked off a Gary Tate pass at the three.

A one-yard touchdown plunge by Bobby Hill gave SCA a 10-7 lead over Ouachita in the fourth period, but Harris broke loose on the ensuing kickoff.

Freshman Connell Williams scored twice for Southern State, once on a 91-yard kickoff return and once on a 23-yard run, Mississippi College fullback Ken Borries plunged over about four minutes left for the winning touchdown after the Choctaws held the Muleriders on fourth and inches at the Mississippi College 40.

The two conference games Saturday match Tech against Henderson, another preseason favorite, at Arkadelphia and Southern State against Harding at Searcy.

Boswell Twins Second to Win 20 Games

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dave Boswell hasn't been the same pitcher since he saw stars a couple of months ago . . . and neither has John "Blue Moon" Odom.

Boswell, knocked dizzy by Minnesota Manager Billy Martin in an Aug. 6 family battle, capped a remarkable late season surge Sunday by defeating Seattle 5-2 in the opener of a doubleheader to become the Twins' second 20-game winner. The Pilots took the second game 4-1 behind rookie Dick Baney after Boswell posted his eighth triumph in 10 decisions since the publicized brawl and joined teammate Jim Perry in a circle of six American League 20-game winners.

New York's Mel Stottlemyre also won his 20th Sunday, beating Baltimore 3-2.

But Odom, a 14-game winner for Oakland in July, remained in a tailspin that began for him in the All-Star game as the Athletics bowed to California 6-5 in 11 innings.

Odom, who was rocked for five runs in one third inning by the National League All-Stars and has won just one game in the AL since then, hit his fifth homer of the season to snap a seven-inning deadlock. But he blew the lead the following inning and was ejected from the game for disputing a call.

Elsewhere, Washington topped Cleveland 7-6 on Del Unser's 10th inning homer; Kansas City whipped the Chicago White Sox 10-3 and Detroit smacked Boston 10-3.

In National League play, Atlanta downed San Diego 4-2; San Francisco crushed Los Angeles 8-1; Cincinnati trimmed Houston 4-1; St. Louis blanked Montreal 2-0; the Chicago Cubs subdued Pittsburgh 3-1 and the New York Mets stymied Philadelphia 2-0.

The Pilots managed only three hits against Boswell, 20-11, and reliever Ron Perranoski, who worked the last two innings for his 30th save of the year, in the first game at Seattle.

But they backed Baney, making his major league debut, with a 12-hit attack in the nightcap. Don Mincher driving in three runs with a double and his 25th homer to lead the way.

The Yankees rallied for two runs in the ninth, Frank Fernandez scoring the winner on a throwing error by Brooks Robinson, to overtake the Orioles. The victory brought Stottlemyre's record to 20-14.

Roger Repoz's second homer of the game, a two-run wallop in the 11th, carried the Angels past Oakland long after Odom's departure.

The Senators blew a 6-0 lead before putting out their sixth consecutive victory on Unser's homer off Cleveland reliever Stan Williams.

Ed Kirkpatrick hit two homers and Bob Oliver and Scott Northey one each, leading Kansas City past the White Sox.

Home runs by Tom Tresh, Al Kaline and Mickey Stanley propelled left-hander Mickey Lolich to his 19th victory as the Tigers belted Boston for a two-game edge over the Red Sox in the struggle for second place in the East Division.

Hogs Have Easy Time With Tulsa

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles must have started thinking about TCU almost before time ran out Saturday in the Razorbacks' 55-0 victory over Tulsa.

The news that TCU lost to Ohio State 62-0 made him worry even more.

"I wish they'd lost to Ohio State by 17-14," he said. "I know what happened last week. They broke in a good, young quarterback with a comeback against Purdue."

"They lost, 42-35, but they could tell themselves that they became a team when Steve Judy got going in the second half," he explained. "That lulled them. Then Judy got his indoctrination in Columbus, O., a bad place for sophomore quarterbacks."

The third-ranked Razorbacks open their Southwest Conference season Saturday against TCU at Little Rock. The Horned Frogs haven't beaten the Razorbacks since 1958 and Broyles knows they'll be ready.

"I can promise you that Fred Taylor (TCU coach) won't have to say anything to them all be wild all week, waiting to redeem themselves."

"All I can do is put myself in their shoes," Broyles said. "They're not that bad and they've been humiliated."

The fact that Arkansas scored 55 points against Tulsa was directly attributable to the performance of the defense which recovered five fumbles and intercepted three passes.

"We made mistakes on offense, but our defense made up for them," Broyles said. "Their (Tulsa) defense played well enough to hold us to three touchdowns, but they just made so many mistakes on offense that their defense couldn't make up for them."

Some observers have said that Arkansas' attitude this year is far more businesslike than the rah-rah-rah aura of 1968.

Broyles also has noticed a difference.

"We experienced this in 1964 and 1965 (back-to-back unbeaten seasons)," he said. "We surprised ourselves in 1964 and then we went out and won the way we were expected to in 1965. It's the same this year, we have a job to do."

Found Guilty of Manslaughter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Clem-on Johnson, 45, of North Little Rock was found guilty of manslaughter Saturday in the June 3, 1967, stabbing of Oliver Sims, 41, of Little Rock.

A Pulaski County Circuit Court Jury that deliberated about an hour fixed punishment at seven years in prison.

Johnson originally was charged with first-degree murder. Circuit Court Judge William J. Kirby reduced the charge to second-degree murder and the jury reduced it to manslaughter.

Arkansas Klan Rally Draws 75

LETTY V. ROCK (AP) — About 75 persons attended a Ku Klux Klan rally Saturday night in a field about 12 miles south of Little Rock.

The Pine Bluff group that sponsored the rally was aided by the Independent Associated Ku Klux Klan of America.

The rally was lighted by an electrified cross fitted with red light bulbs. A 20-foot wooden cross wrapped in burlap also was set on fire as the first speaker took the platform.

The rally lasted about 30 minutes.

A Forrest City resident who wasn't identified talked with Klan members for about 30 minutes before the rally began, saying, "We need help over there. And I'm not ashamed to ask for it. The whites in Forrest City need outside help to fight for their rights."

He said that a group from Forrest City planned to attend the rally and it appeared that he had about 10 acquaintances at the meeting.

Another speaker, taking note of the racial strife in Forrest City, said that the country needed more people to assert "white civil rights."

"Do you like what is happening in Forrest City?" he asked. He said whites needed to organize. Negroes in Forrest City and elsewhere have gotten together to fight for what they want, he said.

If you're true-blue, perhaps you've stopped breathing.

MONEY CLIPS
by Mort Reed
MR. REED: If Joseph Barr knew that his term of office as secretary of the Treasury would expire with the Nixon administration, why did he sign the $1 Federal Reserve note? Why didn't he leave this to the incoming secretary? Was this an effort to create a collector's item and, if so, what is the eventual value of a bill bearing the Barr signature? —JEB
Joseph W. Barr, undersecretary of the Treasury to Henry H. Fowler, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of secretary of the Treasury by President Johnson. Fowler's resignation was effective Dec. 20, 1968, and Barr was appointed Dec. 23, 1968. He assumed his duties on Jan. 1, 1969, and relinquished them to David M. Kennedy, President Nixon's appointee, Jan. 20, 1969.
Shortly after the first of the year, five of the 12 Federal Reserve districts required an additional supply of $1 notes and submitted requests to the secretary. This is the usual procedure.
Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, James A. Conlon, announced that production of bills bearing the new signature would begin Jan. 11 and that the signatures of Joseph W. Barr, secretary of the Treasury, and Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, treasurer of the United States, would be engraved on the plates already in use, a less-expensive and time-saving method.
The districts requesting the Federal Reserve $1 notes included New York-B, Richmond-B, Chicago-G, Kansas City-J and San Francisco-L. The letter following the city indicates the Federal Reserve district and is found in the black seal to the left of the photograph also bearing the name of the bank.

Although Barr held office for a period of only 20 days, notes bearing his signature were printed for several months after his departure. Currently, the bureau is producing notes bearing the signatures of Dorothy Andrews Elston and David M. Kennedy and eventually all denominations from $1 to $100 will carry these names.
Some 395,690,000 Barr notes, including 12,320,000 star or replacement notes, were issued. New York received 126.7 million; Richmond, 96.8 million; Chicago, 93.4 million; Kansas City, 44.8 million with no star notes, and San Francisco, 33.92 million. All carry the series designation 1963B.
To estimate their eventual value, I turned to an outstanding authority on U.S. paper currency, William P. Donlon of Utica, N.Y. According to him, circulated notes with the Barr signature will never bring a premium and, for that reason, dealers are not interested in buying them. Nor are they purchasing uncirculated pieces so long as the availability of uncirculated notes continues.
A set of five uncirculated Barr signature notes, one from each district, is available to readers of this column. They may be had with matching last three digits in the serial number or unmatched. A stamped, self-addressed envelope to William P. Donlon, P.O. Box 144, Utica, N.Y. 13503, will bring full details on how these pieces may be ordered. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

DON'T GIVE IT A SECOND THOUGHT. I KNOW IT'S 5 P.M. I'LL HAVE THOSE REPORTS TO YOU FIRST THING IN THE MORNING—NOT AT ALL!
HENSON... WOULD YOU COME HERE?

THE FAMILY LAWYER
Guns and Children
High-spirited Jimmy, a suburban teenager, got a shotgun as a gift from his doting father. When he mischievously pointed the gun at a neighbor one day, his father scolded him—but allowed him to keep the gun.
A few days later, Jimmy tried the same stunt. This time the gun went off, seriously wounding the neighbor.
Could the father be held legally liable for the neighbor's injury? A court ruled that he could indeed. As one judge put it:
"Firearms are so magnetic to the young that a person of ordinary prudence will take preventive measures commensurate with the great harm that may ensue from the use of a gun by someone unfit to be entrusted with it."

Millions of American homes have guns, and the number of injuries is growing alarmingly. Generally speaking, parents are not liable for an accident caused by their offspring merely because they keep a gun in the house.
But they usually are liable if there is enough reason for them to foresee trouble. The law looks closely at the circumstances—as it did in Jimmy's case—to decide if the parents can fairly be held to blame.
Thus, parents may incur liability by allowing a gun to be too easily accessible. For example:
A man kept his revolver—loaded—in an unlocked desk drawer. One day, his 12-year-old son took it out and began to play with it. Suddenly, to the boy's consternation, the gun discharged, sending a bullet into a visitor's leg. Again, the father was held liable for failing to foresee just this kind of mishap.
Another circumstance that might lead to parental liability is their disregard of the local gun laws. For instance, one community had an ordinance against giving BB guns to children. A couple who let their six-year-old son have one, despite the ordinance, were later held liable for an injury to the boy's playmate.
The court said that by violating the ordinance, the parents not only became subject to a fine but also branded themselves as negligent—hence responsible for the accident that followed.

Tennessee Plowboy Resists Change

Mechanization and modern agricultural methods have changed the U.S. farmer's life in most rural areas. In Beech Creek, however, change comes slowly to the Hoover Light farm, 109 acres in the rolling hills of northeastern Tennessee. Light, 59, and his wife Mamie, 53, live and work in much the same manner as their parents and grandparents before them, getting into town (the nearest is about 20 miles) once a month. Water on the farm is pumped from wells and no tractor trails scar the earth. Light still prefers a good horse or mule for cultivating although he admits that walking behind a plow from sunup to sundown makes a man "work up a sweat." These pictures by Kenneth Murray show the Lights and a bygone way of life.

Following her husband's plow, Mamie Light breaks up clods of earth and chops weeds using a hoe with a home-made handle.

Making the Sound Barrier

Noise has been recognized as a danger of modern life equal to air and water pollution. More than $150 million annually is being spent on sound-deadening materials for residential and commercial buildings. Fiberglass is playing a major role in this area. A Chicago bank, top left, chose fiberglass draperies for its new building because they trap noise that normally would bounce off windows back into the room. At top right, an engineer works under a fiberglass ceiling that absorbs up to 50 per cent of the noise that strikes it. When a new air-conditioning system drowned out speakers' words at the Miami Beach convention hall, fiberglass baffles were hung from the ceiling to cut the noise level nearly in half for the 1968 Republican National Convention, bottom.

Covers 'Hard Times' Route

By TOM TIEDE

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(NEA)—Every day, morning and night, more than a million boys deliver newspapers to homes throughout the nation.

Doug DeLine, aged 15, is one of them.

The job is not altogether kid stuff. Almost all of the young entrepreneurs have hazards. Rain makes their socks soggy, dogs nip at their ankles, subscribers who fail to get papers call them after bedtime.

But for Doug DeLine, things can be even worse. For his is not the green grass and flower gardens of normal (suburban) newspaper delivery. His route is part of the crumbling inner city. And his routine reflects some woes of contemporary urban living.

The youngster delivers the New Haven Register in this town's troubled Hill Section. Doug calls it an area of "hard times."

"Sometimes," the newsboy says, "when I got extra papers, I just give 'em to the older people 'cause I know they ain't even got a dime."

Doug DeLine (his given name is Brian, but he doesn't use it much) gets out of school at one each afternoon. He has study periods after that hour and the school allows his absence. He goes home, eats, rests a bit and begins delivery about 2:30.

He uses a shopping cart for transportation. And he's off with a brisk, confident gait.

Up Ward Street . . .

"The job," he says, tossing papers left and right, "really isn't so bad once you catch on. There are some things you just don't do around here. Like, I always stay with my papers. I remember once I left a bunch on a corner, just for a minute, and when I got back they were swiped.

"Kids are always trying to get your papers. They want to sell 'em on their own. They come right up to you and fool around. They're just showoffs, mostly."

Down Elliott Street . . .

"But kids aren't the big problem. The big problem is some of the people in the neighborhood who won't pay for papers. I know lots of

'em are poor and everything, but some of 'em are just trying to beat you out of the collection money. They keep telling you to come back next week and after awhile they owe you as much as $10-$12.

See that house? She never pays me. See that one? He doesn't either. I don't know what it is, but some of 'em just seem to go deeper and deeper. They don't pay anybody."

And across Davenport . . .

"I got 129 customers. And 45 more papers I put in a vending stand at the old folks home. I got 'em all—black, white, Italian, Puerto Rican. A lot of foreigners. The Jews get Hebrew papers. The Italians get Italian papers. It makes it kinda hard to round up any new subscribers."

"We even got hippies, but they don't buy papers. I don't know why. Maybe they ain't got the money, or maybe they just can't read. People are really funny here."

Funny or not, Doug DeLine says he likes the people on his inner city route. So much so that he's been serving them for nearly five years now.

He says the ones who pay make up for those who don't. He says he's saved up more than $1,300 in his own bank account. He buys his own clothes, pays for his own haircuts and is, he says, "pretty independent."

And as for his occupational problems:

"Well, I don't think about them much. I consider myself lucky to have a good job. I mean, a lot of kids around here would like to have a good job."

Thinks Voters Should Decide Five Issues

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Brandon of Little Rock, a delegate to the state Constitutional Convention, says Arkansas voters should be given an opportunity to consider at least five issues currently included in the proposed constitution separately from the main document.

Brandon, a former state senator, said Sunday "it would be a tragedy to permit a few controversial issues" to cause the defeat of the proposed new document in the 1970 general election because it "is so much better than what we now have."

Brandon said the issues that should be considered separately were:

—A proposal that would give the legislature the authority to raise the ceiling on interest rates to more than 10 per cent.

—A proposal that would authorize the appointment of some or all judges.

—A proposal to include the right-to-work law in the new constitution.

—A proposal that would remove the ceilings on salaries.

—And, proposals that would increase the taxing powers of cities, counties and the legislature.

Thinks Middle Income Whites Resent Negroes

NEW YORK (AP) — White, middle-income Americans are resentful of gains they think blacks have made, Newsweek magazine says.

The magazine, in its Oct. 6 edition, says a poll of white, middle-income Americans shows that 85 per cent believe that black militants have been treated too leniently.

The survey showed that 44 per cent of this group—which President Nixon called the "forgotten man"—believe Negroes have a better chance to get good-paying jobs; 41 per cent believe that Negroes have a better opportunity to get a good education for their children; and 65 per cent believe that unemployed Negroes have a better chance to get financial help from the government.

The survey was prepared by the Gallup organization for a magazine article entitled "The Troubled American, A Special Report on the White Majority." It surveyed 2,165 households, 1,321 of them with an income between $5,000 and $15,000.

The article said these Americans were pessimistic about the direction of the country. Forty-six per cent believe the United States has changed for the worse over the past decade, and 58 per cent believe the nation is likely to change for the worse during the next decade, it said.

Asked about the top problems facing the country, nearly 2 out of 3 cited the Vietnam war, 41 per cent the racial crisis, 10 per cent crime and only 2 per cent nuclear war, the magazine said.

Newsweek said nearly 7 out of 10 persons conceded that some demands of Negro leaders are justified.

Although 78 per cent said that federal taxes are too high, Newsweek said many cited areas where federal spending should be increased.

It said 56 per cent want more spent on job training and air and water pollution, 55 per cent want more spent on fighting organized crime and 47 per cent favor more money for medical care for the old and needy.

BOLOGNA, Italy—(NEA)—There is a story about Commendatore Ferruccio Lamborghini, possibly apocryphal, and how he became an auto manufacturer.

Some years ago, Lamborghini, a prominent tractor and farm equipment manufacturer, dropped by to visit the plant of old friend Enzo Ferrari in nearby Modena. Lamborghini for years had owned Ferraris and thought them to be marvelous machines.

In the course of pleasant conversation, Lamborghini may have remarked to his host that his personal Ferrari could stand some minor design and mechanical improvement.

The old man of Modena reddened instantly, the story goes.

"Basta," he shouted. "How dare you, a tractor maker, tell me, the builder of the world's finest cars, how to do my job! I am insulted. You are dismissed."

Lamborghini, his rage matching Ferrari's, departed screaming, "I will build my own cars and they will put yours to shame."

And so he did.

The story may have been embroidered somewhat in the retelling (Lamborghini doesn't actually deny the colloquy but prefers a "no comment." Ferrari doesn't say anything). Nevertheless, the tractor manufacturer bought engineers, designers and automotive workers, many of whom were old Ferrari hands, and started his line at incredible cost.

His greatest flight of fancy is probably the Miura, a low-lying, fire-breathing beast which certainly can match practically anything ever produced by Ferrari, including the price.

Unlike other manufacturers who merely buy parts, engines and bodies from other people and combine them like a mechanical goulash, practically every moving part in a Lambo is made in the Lambo works. This includes the V-12 four liter engine and five-speed transmission (usually a ZF box).

The current product is the Lamborghini Islero 400/GTS 2 plus 2, a rather involved moniker for what we would call a four-seater sports car. For those who wish the true interpretation, Islero is the model name, 400 means four liters (4,000 cubic centimeters), GTS is gran turismo super and 2 plus 2 means two seats in front and two almost-seats in back.

The Islero can develop a top speed in excess of 160 m.p.h. at 7,700 r.p.m. The Girling four-wheel disc brake system stops all this speed pronto and the Pirelli Cinturato tires offer enhanced manageability. All this for under $20,000.

Commendatore Lamborghini figured the car would appeal only to those people whose tastes corresponded to his, yet the plant sells every car it makes (some 500 a year) and ever since Prince Rainier and Princess Grace were seen in one, it has become the continental status symbol.

Take that, Enzo Ferrari. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Shooting at the President Over Hope's Shoulder

Newspapers that can afford to maintain a Washington bureau usually do so in order to dig up special stories. But the Arkansas Gazette has given this a switch. The Gazette uses its bureau not to develop new stories but to write up routine ones with a political slant.

The Hope-Hempstead Chamber of Commerce sent Lester B. Kent's champion 153-pound watermelon to President Nixon, but the Gazette came out the morning of Sept. 26 with a malicious story saying the President had given our melon the brush-off.

Obviously the Yellow Dog Democratic Gazette isn't above shooting at a Republican President over Hope's shoulder, low-rating a native product and hurting the feelings of fellow Arkansians in the process.

Happily enough the Gazette's scurvy dispatch was nailed down as false when the Associated Press reported the true facts in The Star and other afternoon papers of the 26th.

Excerpts from the Gazette and the AP wire will prove my point:

From the Gazette Washington Bureau, 784 National Press Building:

"The watermelon, a gift of the Hope Chamber of Commerce to President Nixon, will be presented to Michael J. Farrell, a little-known White House aide described by an Arkansas here as 'a fellow in charge of receiving things nobody more important in the White House will receive.'"

From the Associated Press report:

"WASHINGTON — Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin today accepted a 153-pound watermelon from Hope, Ark., for President Nixon in a ceremony in the East Garden of the White House."

Coupled with the dispatch was The Star's own report, based on a message from Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt, as follows:

"The President, scheduled to accept it in person, had to change plans due to a news conference. Also present at the presentation was John Davies, assistant to the President, along with every major television network and news services in both the U.S. and Britain."

How do you reconcile these conflicting reports?

You don't. The Associated Press isn't grinding any political axes. The Gazette simply got caught flat-footed.

Weather to Be Warmer, Report Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It should be a little warmer across Arkansas tonight and Tuesday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The warming trend is attributed to an easterly drift of a high pressure ridge that has extended over Ohio southwestward to Eastern Texas.

The drift was to bring a slight rise in temperatures to western sections of the state today, then spread eastward tonight and Tuesday. A dry air mass associated with the drift will keep night-time temperatures on the cool side.

No rain is forecast. Highs over the state Sunday ranged from the upper 70s and low 80s in the north central and northeast to around 90 in the extreme southwest.

Overnight lows included 53 at Fayetteville, Jonesboro and Little Rock, 55 at Memphis, 57 at Pine Bluff, 56 at Texarkana and El Dorado, and 52 at Blytheville.

Red Goal to Inflict Heavy Casualties

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command has a captured enemy document stating that Hanoi's goals are to inflict heavy American casualties to prevent de-escalation of the Vietnam war while the United States is in a position of strength, official sources said today.

The informants said the document was captured north of Saigon Sept. 5 and outlines a program for implementing the Communist Command's battle plans.

However, the disclosure was coupled with an announcement that enemy activity had dropped to its lowest level in Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces since the week ending last July 26.

One source said: "The enemy's intentions remain obscure and his immediate goals are unclear. There has been no evidence of a large-scale effort planned for the immediate future."

The captured document said heavy American losses in past campaigns had forced the United States to halt the bombing of North Vietnam and to withdraw 25,000 troops during the past summer.

It emphasized what it termed Viet Cong and North Vietnamese diplomatic successes compelling the United States to fight passively and negotiate at the same time in Paris.

Under one heading termed "conspiracies of the United States in the near future," the document said American policy is to de-Americanize the war gradually with emphasis placed on the preservation of U.S. manpower and material strength, trying to end the war in a strong position.

The document instructed enemy troops to destroy the South Vietnamese government and its administrative machinery; increase military action and expand the armed forces; heighten the role of the Viet Cong's revolutionary government; and increase civilian, military and

See Red Goal (on Page 2) 3 Arkansans Found Dead in N. Mexico

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)—Autopsies have been ordered to determine the cause of death of an Arkansas woman and two of her grandchildren, who were found dead Sunday in an automobile in Tucumcari.

Four other persons, who were found unconscious in the vehicle, were in fair condition Sunday at a Tucumcari hospital.

Authorities identified the dead as Myrtle Mae Parker, in her late 50s, and Bobby Joe Parker, 3, and Jackie Lee Parker, 15 months.

The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Parker, and two other children, David Eugene, 4, and Glenda Ellen, 7, were hospitalized.

Officers said the Parkers were enroute to Buena Park, Calif., from Springdale, Ark. Police said Parker was driving the car when it pulled to the side of U.S. 66 Sunday morning. A witness said Parker's wife got out of the car and that Parker apparently lost consciousness after stopping the vehicle.

Brandt's Party Shows Gain in German Vote

By OTTO DOELLING
Associated Press Writer
BONN (AP) — Foreign Minister Willy Brandt, whose Social Democrats showed the only gains in West Germany's federal elections Sunday, notified its parliament today he will try to form a new coalition government and seek election as chancellor.

Brandt issued a statement saying: "Taking into account the results of the Bundestag election, in connection with the particularly controversial questions of the election campaign, I intend to seek the approval of the majority of the Bundestag for my election as federal chancellor."

At the same time, the Social Democrats notified federal President Gustav Heinemann they would try to form a coalition government with the small Free Democratic party, breaking their present alliance with Chancellor Kurt George Kiesinger's Christian Democrats.

If they are successful, Brandt succeeds Kiesinger, it would be the first German government in 39 years to be headed by the Social Democratic party.

The Social Democratic party (SPD) won 42.7 per cent of the vote—a gain of 3.4 per cent since the 1965 elections. The Christian Democrats (CDU) won 46.1 per cent—a loss of 1.5 per cent and not enough for them to rule alone.

The biggest loser was Walter Scheel's Free Democratic party (FDP), which captured 5.8 per cent of the vote compared to 9.5 per cent in the last elections.

Convention Subject of Club Meet

Bill Etter of Washington, a delegate to the Constitutional Convention, summarized the provisions of the proposed new constitution at the Hope Rotary Club meeting last Friday in the Town and Country. Introduced by Al Zimmermann, Mr. Etter briefly reviewed the 5 constitutions under which the government of Arkansas has operated. These were adopted in 1836, 1861, 1864, 1868, and 1874.

Now, 100, delegates have drafted what has been termed a document of necessity. "It is not a constitution for Utopia but for the State of Arkansas," explained the speaker. He emphasized that any change in it should be made before its final submission to the people for adoption.

Anyone with suggestions for change is asked to contact a delegate before the convention reconvenes in January. Mr. Etter acknowledged outstanding people who have been greatly responsible for the currently proposed document. Club president Benny Coleman welcomed those present, and Warren Butler invited the club to a Farm Bureau meeting on October 2 in their new building.

Charged With Brutality

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William C. Morgan of near North Little Rock, a former Tucker Prison Farm trustee charged with brutality to inmates, is scheduled to appear in U. S. District Court Wednesday for a possible change in his plea.

Morgan had pleaded innocent Aug. 12 to five charges that alleged that he passed electrical currents through inmates in 1964, 1965 and 1966.

House-passed measure to provide planning money for a massive extension of the Capitol building—construction that would bury the walls.

Approval of the planning funds would virtually assure extension.

The central west facade would be extended up to 88 feet, creating 4½ acres of new space for restaurants, toilets, visitor centers, meeting rooms and numerous private offices for congressmen.

Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, has accused the expansion proponents, led by House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., and Capitol Architect J. George Stewart, of trying to "make the Capitol into a king-sized Howard Johnson's."

The original Capitol was designed by Dr. William Thornton, a Virgin Island-born Philadelphia physician who was selected by George Washington.

It was built principally by James Hoban, the Irish emigrant who constructed the first wing and also designed and built the White House; Benjamin Latrobe, who added a second wing and restored the Capitol after the British burned it in 1814, and Charles Bulfinch of Boston, who put up the center section and rotunda.

Much of the historic work has been sacrificed in previous expansions.

When the east front was extended a decade ago, the sculptured panel above the central portico carved by Luigi Persico on a design by President John Quincy Adams was lost to the Capitol. Also carted off were two decayed statues of War and Peace by Persico as well as a number of columns.

Everything else was covered over by the new walls, except for a couple of window casings which were allowed to show through into a new inside corridor.

The old work was carefully coiled in more durable marble, and the same will be done on the west side. But critics of the idea ask just how much a replica is worth. Try telling an art collector you will give him a fresh new copy for his wrinkled old Rembrandt, they say.

The original portions of the Capitol were built of sandstone at Washington's insistence because it was cheap and the young republic was hard pressed for cash.

"All the original architects recommended marble," said Mario E. Campoli, Stewart's assistant. "If they had used marble, perhaps we wouldn't be having the trouble we are having today."

Beside the burning by the British, the Capitol suffered another major fire in 1851 and a gas explosion in 1898.

MONTREAL (AP) — A terrorist bomb exploded at the home of Mayor Jean Drapeau today less than a week after 24-hour police surveillance there was discontinued.

Mrs. Drapeau and her 21-year-old son Michel, asleep upstairs in the two-story residence in the district of Rosemont, were not harmed.

Dubcek One of Many in Soviet Purge

By GENE KRAMER
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE (AP) — A weekend purge that swept reformer Alexander Dubcek and his supporters from Communist party and government leadership spread today throughout Czechoslovakia.

Reports reached Prague of new regional shakeups from eastern Slovakia to northwest Bohemia in the Communist party and in the National Front, which controls organizations outside the party.

Czechoslovakia's Communist bosses, toiling the pro-Soviet line, had promised a sweeping party shakeup of "social organizations, state and economic apparatus, science and culture" in announcing the purges Sunday.

President Ludvik Svoboda said a new government would be announced today. Nine cabinet members were thrown out or had their jobs abolished.

Dubcek, 47, the former Communist party boss and still very popular, was ousted from the ruling Presidium and removed as president of the National Assembly. But he retained his seat on the party's Central Committee.

Josef Smrkovsky, one of Dubcek's closest aides in the 1968 reform era from January until the Aug. 22 Soviet invasion, was removed as vice president of the National Assembly.

A purge list showed that 29 men who backed Dubcek while he ran the country have left the Central Committee.

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK said party chief Gustav Husak told a plenary meeting of the Central Committee last Thursday that new membership

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Authorities were to continue their search today for six of seven prisoners who escaped Saturday from the Pulaski County Jail at Little Rock.

One of the seven, Thomas Dunn, 24, of North Little Rock, was apprehended Saturday at his home.

Sheriff's deputies said the prisoners used hacksaw blades to saw through the bars on their cells and on a window leading to the outside.

The six still at large were identified as Kenneth Odum, 30, of North Little Rock, who was being held on charges of burglary and possession of stolen property; Steve Rounsavall, 25, of North Little Rock, a federal prisoner; Donald Bruce Stewart, 22, a federal prisoner; Joe Nelson, 27, of College Station, who was charged with robbery; and Carl Frank Davis, 22, of Little Rock, charged with grand larceny.

Postal Reform Critics Are Blasted

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—U.S. Postmaster General William E. Blount Sunday criticized the opponents of postal reform who say the objectives proposed by advocates of reform can only be achieved by closing small post offices.

"Mass closings of the small office is the biggest waste of time I can think of in trying to reach that objective," Blount said in a speech to 3,500 members of the National Association of Postmasters and their wives at Hot Springs.

Blount also said his department is in the process of turning back to the postmasters the authority and responsibilities "that have been centralized in Washington, in my opinion, to the detriment of the service."

"This represents the most tangible way that we can express our confidence in your ability to manage your own operations," Blount said.

First Negro Mayor of Cleveland Has Foo in Drive for Re-election

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
CLEVELAND (AP) — Black and white sat cramped together inside the Ukrainian National Home on Cleveland's heavily white West Side and smiled up at the stage.

There smiling back, flanked by white politicians, sat Carl B. Stokes, the first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city.

Stokes was in the midst of his campaign for re-election—a drive that faces its first hurdle Tuesday when he meets Robert J. Kelly in the Democratic primary.

And despite the smiles, the mayor's white campaign workers and the posters with their black and white lettering, racial harmony has yet to descend on Cleveland where Stokes is in what could prove the fight of his life.

Stamp Plan to Hit Snag in House

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers and critics of a liberalized national food stamp program, successful last week in the Senate, rate its chances for passage by the House at less than even.

"It's a long shot," said Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash. "I think we will pass something much less far-reaching."

A major stumbling block is the House Agriculture Committee, to which the Senate-passed measure first must go.

"It'd be tremendously surprised if our committee approved that type of legislation. In fact, it would astound me," said Chairman W. R. Poage, D-Tex., an opponent of the Senate program.

The version approved by the Senate exceeds by more than $2 billion the amount proposed by President Nixon for food stamps over the next three years. It also would provide free stamps to families whose incomes fall under $60 a month.

Food stamps now are purchased by low income families who redeem them for more food than they could buy with cash. The government makes up the difference.

Senate passage came after Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., bypassed the Senate Agriculture Committee and brought the bill directly to the floor.

Foley has introduced a bill similar to McGovern's and said he, too, hopes to push it on the floor. He said the Senate action puts pressure on the House to pass at least some of the liberalized program.

The Senate version authorizes spending $1.25 billion for food stamps in this fiscal year, $2 billion next year and $2.5 billion in fiscal 1972.

President Nixon recommended increasing the current

One Killed on State Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An Associated Press count shows that one person was killed on the Arkansas highways during the 54-hour weekend period.

The death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victim was identified as Rebecca Causey, 21, of Crossett, State Police said she was killed Saturday when a car struck the rear of a motorcycle on which she was riding. Officers said the accident took place about two miles east of Magnolia on a county road.

Hospital Visiting Hours Changed

The Board of Governors and the Medical Staff of Hempstead County Memorial Hospital have voted that the following policy regarding visiting in the hospital be established effective October 1, 1969:

There will be no visiting during morning hours except members of the immediate family of a critically ill patient. This will be controlled by visiting cards. Only two members of a family will be permitted to visit a patient at one time. The regular visiting hours will be from 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon until 4:00 o'clock and from 6:00 in the evening until 8:00. Visits will be limited to ten minutes.

The newly organized Hospital Auxiliary will be on hand to assist visitors in finding the desired rooms and in all other ways necessary for their keeping in touch with patients.

This change in visiting hours has been brought about by the increased number of patients in the hospital and the fact that so many people have been visiting during the morning hours that patients have not been able to receive proper care and physicians have been interrupted in making morning rounds.

We feel that this is another step of our hospital toward improving patient care and it is our sincere hope that the public will assist us in carrying out this new program, the Board said.

DO-IT-YOURSELF WINTER CAN BE HARD ON SHRUBS AND TREES

By MR. FIX

Pieces of burlap and chicken wire will protect precious plants from winter weather and animals. As shrubs grow larger they become more difficult to replace, more expensive and more vulnerable to high winds. Even a short cold snap, if severe, can do extensive damage. In winter there will be a lack of water, starving rodents will chew up bark and the tender ends of branches, plants can become sunburned and roots near the surface may be heaved by frost and killed with exposure. Give shrubs and trees plenty of water during the fall, right up until the weather starts rising. A cold snap that night will cause the sap to expand and burst the plant cells. For this reason, a canopy of burlap fastened to stakes is needed for protection. It also will protect small plants from drifting snow. Wrap burlap around the slender trunks of newly planted trees, both as a protection against sunburn and rodents. Small trees and shrubs in extremely exposed areas should get extra protection. Stake them to prevent them from being broken or bent by the wind. Put stakes around the plant a small distance from the trunk and place burlap around this

Barriers should keep rodents out of trees.

When cold weather comes, mulch with leaves, straw, peat moss and similar materials. Rodents can damage and even destroy small trees and shrubs. Make a barrier of hardware cloth. Shape it in a cylinder and wrap it around the tree a few inches away from the trunk. How high to go should be determined by how much snow you get in your area. Remember that in winter small animals can sit on top of the snow to do their nibbling. Sunburn is an ailment peculiar to the winter. On the protected side of the house, too much sun may cause the political life. In Cleveland, as it was earlier this year in Minneapolis and Los Angeles, the issue is law and order. Stokes' white challenger says Cleveland "has become a jungle." Crime in the city shot up 56 per cent during the first six months of the year, according to statistics supplied the FBI by Cleveland police. The rate for violent crimes jumped 63 per cent. The situation is so desperate, Kelly declared as he began his campaign, that he would call in the National Guard to battle crime as his first official act. Kelly, a former city traffic engineer who claims he has the support of 95 per cent of the city's more than 2,000 policemen, has gotten little attention from Stokes. The mayor's aides, predicting victory on Tuesday, say the tough fight will come in November against County Auditor Ralph J. Perk, the first Republican to win a Cuyahoga County election in 25 years. Perk is unopposed for the GOP nomination for mayor. Inside the Ukrainian home, Councilman John T. Bilinski, Seventh Ward Democratic leader, was nearing the end of his introduction. "All I can say is no mayor does everything perfectly," Bilinski said. "You've got to weigh the whole record." Finally Stokes rose to speak, smiling and relaxed, he waited for the applause to stop playing and the applause to die down. Then, smiling even more broadly, he said, "Hi." "Hi," the audience replied. Outside the hall, Kelly described Stokes: "He's a combination of Orson Welles, and who's that little Negro dancer? What's his name? Sammy Davis. That's him, and Bishop Sheen." Kelly has been hitting hard at Stokes' handling of the July 1968 Glenville sniping incident in which seven persons were killed, including three policemen. Riots followed the shooting, Stokes, saying he wanted to avoid further bloodshed, pulled white policemen out of the area. The decision incensed white policemen, especially when looting and scattered burning continued. Kelly also has attacked Stokes over a Civil Service scandal which involves charges that police examinations were leaked in advance to Negro applicants. Two indictments already have been returned. Cleveland police are forbidden by law from political activity. And the Fraternal Order of Police steered clear of any explicit political statement in a full-page advertisement in a Cleveland newspaper on Friday. The advertisement, "an open letter to Mayor Stokes," said "never before in Cleveland's history have there been the problems that exist today in law enforcement." The ad said, "We are genuinely concerned the crime situation locally threatens the breakdown of an orderly and stable society." Stokes replied: "If some of the members of our police department spent more of their time worrying about the rising crime rate and less time thinking about politics, we might be able to move more effectively to cut our crime rate." The mayor admits his administration has made errors. But he defends its accomplishments, particularly its attraction of federal funds, its economic development and its public safety policies. "We can keep Cleveland moving ahead," Stokes says, "if we stand up to those of small vision and little faith in people, those dividers and separators who seek to split Negro against White, Protestant against Catholic, Jew against Gentile." Stokes has a solid power base in the city's Negro wards. He also has the support of the Cleveland establishment. The county Democratic organization endorsed him. So did labor. So did both of the city's newspapers.

Israel Planes Hit Egyptian Military Bases

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Israeli fighter planes pounded Egyptian military targets south of Suez today, the Israeli command said. A spokesman said the planes hit objectives in the southern Suez Canal sector and along the Suez Gulf where Egyptians were rebuilding damaged fortifications. All planes returned safely, the spokesman said. It was believed to be the 16th strike flown by Israeli pilots since the Sept. 9 Israeli amphibious raid along the western shore of the Gulf of Suez. Israel claimed it hit the same general area in an air attack Sunday night, but Egypt said the attack was foiled by Arab anti-aircraft fire. An Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv said the planes struck targets along northern and southern sectors of the canal "in view of continued Egyptian aggression." He said all planes returned safely to base. A Cairo spokesman said the Israeli air raid was "a futile attempt at retaliation" for an Egyptian commando attack in Sinai early Sunday. Egypt claimed it inflicted "heavy casualties" in the dawn commando raid on at least 600 troops at Masara, about 50 miles east of Qantara, in Israeli-occupied northern Sinai. The Israeli military denied the attack, and a spokesman said "a few craters of rockets were found" in a desolate part of the area where the Egyptians claimed the attack occurred. Dr. Samuel Gerber, acting county Democratic chairman, said he believes Stokes is stronger than when he won a narrow victory two years ago, getting less than 25 per cent of the white vote. "Certainly he's not any weaker."

Massachusetts Democrat Gets Backing

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, by tape recording, and Hubert H. Humphrey, in person, are plugging for the election of a Massachusetts Democrat to fill a long-Republican House seat in a special election Tuesday. Both Republicans and Democrats have sent political organizers and tacticians to the Sixth Congressional District, north of Boston. Michael J. Harrington, 33, a Democratic state representative, is matched against William L. Saltonstall, 42, a Republican state senator who is the son of former U.S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall.

Democrats are bidding to pick up a third traditionally Republican House seat to go with those they captured in special elections in Wisconsin and Montana earlier this year. The contest is for the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. William H. Bates. Although registered Democrats now outnumber Republicans in the district, it has never sent a Democrat to Congress. There are more independents than members of either party. Former Vice President Humphrey, dispatched today, is the latest Democratic leader to appear on Harrington's behalf. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota also have appeared with Harrington. Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Democratic national chairman, said he planned to go, too. Kennedy has made no appearance although the Massachusetts senator supplied two of his political lieutenants, taped endorsements for radio broadcast and provided fund raising assistance to Harrington. "For now, the senator is not making any political appearances himself," said Richard C. Drayne, Kennedy's press secretary. This is because of continuing court action in connection with the July 18 automobile accident in which Mary Jo Kopechne drowned. A Republican official said the race was close, and the White House was watching. The GOP Congressional Campaign Committee has sent money and men to the district but no national party figures.

DECADE OF INCREASE FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A new state study shows Kentuckians are paying roughly double the state taxes they did a decade ago — while their per capita income has risen only 50 per cent. Pucinski's office, meanwhile, reports heavy mail from both Chicago and downstate urging the congressman to run. There had previously been rumors he would run against Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy in 1972. Smith, speaker of the Illinois House until his appointment by Gov. Richard Ogilvie, also faces a possible primary fight. But one of his strongest potential opponents — Rep. John Anderson of Rockford — says he will support Smith for the last four years of Dirksen's term rather than split the party.

Stevenson Will Seek Dirksen's Seat

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The bearer of one of the most prominent names in recent Democratic history, Adlai E. Stevenson III, has decided to seek the Illinois Senate seat of the late Everett M. Dirksen, authoritative sources say. But he may face a primary challenge in March from a Chicago congressman. Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, 50, is considering a bid next year for the seat now occupied by Sen. Ralph T. Smith, the Republican named to succeed Dirksen. Stevenson — the 38-year-old state treasurer who is the son of the former governor and two-time Democratic presidential nominee — is expected to declare himself a candidate in November. If Pucinski decides to challenge him, it could set up only the second contested statewide Democratic primary in some 35 years, according to Illinois political observers. Pucinski's office, meanwhile, reports heavy mail from both Chicago and downstate urging the congressman to run. There had previously been rumors he would run against Republican Sen. Charles H. Percy in 1972. Smith, speaker of the Illinois House until his appointment by Gov. Richard Ogilvie, also faces a possible primary fight. But one of his strongest potential opponents — Rep. John Anderson of Rockford — says he will support Smith for the last four years of Dirksen's term rather than split the party.

Britain Is Jittery Over Jumbo Jet

By TOM CULLEN
NEA European Correspondent

LONDON — (NEA) — The Boeing 747 jumbo jet has been called a pilot's dream because it handles so easily. But to London Airport it is a nightmare that soon will become a hideous reality.

With the first of the 500-seater jumbos scheduled to go into service across the Atlantic in December, London, in common with other European airports, is making frantic preparations to cope with the added passenger burden. But airport facilities are already strained to the breaking point. Observers predict that chaos will result when 15 jumbo jets land at London every day as is expected starting in 1970. By 1975 the number of jumbos will have increased to 20 each hour, according to present estimates.

To handle this influx London is rushing to complete a $30 million extension to its No. 3 terminal, which will have the latest in electronic gadgets, including a 900-foot moving pavement. The new extension will enable the airport to load or unload seven jumbos simultaneously; but even these increased facilities will soon be inadequate, it is feared here.

To make matters worse, Parliament is no nearer than it was four years ago to agreement on a site for the much-needed third airport for the London area. No sooner is a locality named as a possible site than the inhabitants gather on the village green and decide to stage a march on the Houses of Parliament. Vote-conscious legislators flee in panic from the wrath of the "stop the airport" pressure groups.

But even if Parliament could agree on a site tomorrow, a third airport could not be completed before the end of 1972 at the earliest. Meanwhile, London stands to lose much of the jumbo air traffic to Paris, which is well advanced in the construction of its third airport at Boissy, 15 miles from the Eiffel Tower.

Although the first transatlantic jumbo will not be in operation until Christmas, over 200 of them have been ordered by the world's airlines. Each of the jumbos weighs 700,000 pounds and has enough room inside its cabin for the Wright brothers to stage their first Kitty-hawk flight. Designed to hold three times as many passengers as today's jetliners, the jumbos are the fastest subsonic planes in the world, should knock at least one-half hour off the Atlantic run, while giving a smoother, turbulence-free performance.

Boeing salesmen like to refer to the jumbo, whose cabin is 20 feet wide and with a ceiling higher than in most homes, as the "flying living-room." It will have 16 hostesses to look after the comfort of passengers.

There will be no immediate slashing of air fares as a result of the greater payload carried by the Boeing 747, but the need to keep seating capacity filled is expected to bring prices down. In fact, the jumbos should inaugurate a new era of economy-priced group travel, with chartered flights and packaged tours taking the place of individual tourist travel.

The jumbo jet has brought with it a host of new problems, to solve which the hardware men have put on their thinking caps. For example, the whole system of buying duty-free drinks may have to be altered as a result of the jumbo. With some countries allowing five bottles a head, 1,000 or so bottles of spirits on a plane might be considered a fire risk.

Curiously, British underwriters, who handle a big chunk of all the world's air insurance, do not appear to be unduly worried by the advent of the jumbo. "Of course, it could be bad for us if something were to happen to a flight chartered, say, by the American Bar Association with a bunch of very expensive lawyers with big insurance policies aboard," admits Alan Hunter, a London insurance investigator.

British pilots are not alarmed either. The jumbo handles easier than the conventional jet, says a British test pilot. "It's like having power steering." Capt. Lloyd Taylor, chairman of the British Pilots' Association, is not too happy about the location of the jumbo's cockpit, which is 30 feet above the ground. "It's like a pimple on the biggest aspidochelone in the world," is the way he describes it. He would also like to have a closed-circuit television system so that he can see the plane's wheels.

On the ground at London Airport they are worried about servicing the jumbo in the 60 minutes allotted to this task by the Boeing experts. ("Have the experts ever tried emptying and replacing 500 ashtrays?")

The Boeing 747 will require at least twice as many vehicles to service it, everything from staircases on wheels to fuel tankers, from passenger coaches to cargo carriers. And the holdups at passport control will be at least twice as long unless improved methods for processing passengers are devised. (The French are toying with the idea of replacing the passport by a magnetized plastic card no bigger than a credit card, which can be fed into a computer for checking.)

With supersonic jets carrying 800 passengers now feasible, the chief limitations to a plane's payload would seem to be those imposed by ground crews and airport officials. Passengers are not likely to fly from New York to London in supersonic jumbo jets if they have to spend hours in London Airport waiting to go through customs and immigration.

A foretaste of things to come was the huge luggage pile-up at London Airport recently when the conveyor belt system broke down. In the end airline employees had to carry several thousand suitcases from reception desks to aircraft.

The $600,000 conveyor belt, which has been in operation only since last May, appears to be jinxed. About 200 pieces of luggage go astray each week on the belt and this number would be increased threefold if the jumbo jets were now in operation.

London Airport has three years to catch up with the jumbo age. If it fails to do so, Britain's capital may be bypassed by the mammoth planes of the future, which will fly on to the Continent with their loads of Americans looking for places to spend their dollars.

Starts Drive to Aid Green Berets Charged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Green Beret Defense Committee, headed by William Crews McCulloch of Dumas, has initiated a drive to obtain 500,000 signatures on a petition asking that the trials of six Green Beret soldiers be moved from Vietnam to Washington.

The six soldiers are accused of killing an alleged Vietnamese double agent.

McCulloch, a former Green Beret captain who saw action in Vietnam, said Sunday that the petition would ask Army Secretary Stanley Resor to move the trials to Washington. McCulloch said he believed "there is a better chance of exonerating these men if the trials are transferred from Vietnam to Washington."

The Defense Department recently rejected a request by some congressmen that the trials be held in the United States, but McCulloch said his organization felt "public opinion could change this view." The committee was organized to raise a minimum of $500,000 to pay for civilian counsel for the Green Berets, but McCulloch said the petition would get "immediate priority" because there is a possibility the trial may begin about Oct. 20.

"We feel very strongly that the only way we can let the people know the facts in this case is to bring the trials back to the United States so it won't be under pressure from the military as it has been," McCulloch said.

He also said that Henry B. Rothblatt, a New York lawyer who will be on the team defending the Green Berets, had told him it was "absolutely essential" that the trials be removed from Vietnam. "He said the military is doing all it can to stymie this thing," McCulloch said. McCulloch also mentioned that several other organizations were interested in lending support to the petition drive. He said he may go to Boston and Baltimore to help organize the campaign and that he might try to see Resor at Washington.

McCulloch was to meet with George Harley of Tulsa, Okla., project officer for the petition drive, and committee Vice Chairman James Morris of Norman, Okla., Sunday at Little Rock.
